Teaching Writing Collaboratively:

Units of Study - Grades 3-5 A General Education/Special Education Three-Year School Improvement Initiative

Are you interested in improving the teaching of writing in your school? Are you familiar with the power of UDL approaches? If so, then this three-year initiative for both general education and special education teachers accompanied by an administrator, is just what you need. This is Year I of a three-year staff development initiative designed to be part of your school improvement plans. Registration is for teams of teachers, not individuals. The series will continue annually so additional teachers will be able to take advantage of this ongoing learning opportunity.

Participants must bring their own set of the Calkins' Units of Study for Teaching Writing, Grades 3-5.
